CEO and founder Dr. Brandie Elizabeth Keates and the team at Experience Chiropractic are honored with this award in their 20th year of practice serving Pennsylvania's Main Line.

"I'm deeply moved to have won this award, as I've never identified with being a business owner but instead, as someone who is wildly passionate about helping people in any capacity," Dr. Brandie said. "Fortunately, my work has allowed me to infuse that passion into my patients, my teams, and now, the women of the world throughout their pregnancies."

According to SBA Eastern Pennsylvania District Director Steven Dixel, National Small Business Week has recognized the "critical contributions of America's entrepreneurs and small business owners." for more than 60 years.

"We applaud the achievements of small businesses and the organizations that assist them," Dixel said. "It's an honor to present these awards. Each business is exceptional and deserving of recognition as they have grown their business, created jobs, demonstrated resiliency, and contributed to the growth of their local communities and the economy."

Dr. Brandie Keates has dedicated her life to educating and empowering women through her private practice, her prenatal division Bloom @ Experience Chiropractic, and her carefully curated standard of practice for the treatment of prenatal patients, The Bloom Philosophy™.
